Put this depth of support in their hands

A proposed sponsored group · 13 November 2026

A first group of ten organizations

Sponsor KindTru's Organizational Health & Planning resources for ten willing nonprofits: $2,490 in software ($249 per organization for groups of ten or more). One assessment and its connected tools per organization; no subscription. Reassessment is a separate purchase.

Substantial insight—and the resources to act on it

Each organization receives a confidential assessment and report, a facilitation kit for its board conversation, an action plan, strategic planning and retreat resources, and Campaign Studio. Board development, a Welcome Pack, Policy Shelf, grant-readiness materials and check-ins support the work over time. Leaders choose what fits; they retain responsibility for decisions.

Participation on the nonprofit's terms

Invite organizations that want to participate and can name an internal lead. Intake usually takes 5–10 minutes; board members and senior staff should allow about 40–55 minutes each for the survey, with a shorter survey for program staff. Agree the assessment and board-conversation timetable with each organization.

Support without surveillance

The funder does not receive individual answers or organizations' full reports. Organizations choose assessment categories to share with the cohort. Combined reporting requires consent and minimum group sizes; buying ten places does not guarantee every aggregate will be available. Do not require confidential findings as a condition of participation.

Agree delivery, then learn from use

Before starting, confirm the organizations, written scope, payment arrangement, access issuance and any orientation or coordination. Email support carries no fixed response-time commitment. Consulting, meeting facilitation and professional advice are separate services only if agreed in writing. Ask participants voluntarily what they used, what changed in their work, and whether it earned their time; do not promise demonstrated impact in advance.
